

FARMERS MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

Prohibition, obsession of a century, is brought to the fore again, still being tested at the ballot box. Texas will vote on August 24 whether we shall have outright repeal or whether we shall have liquor by state dispensaries. As long as prohibition is a political issue it will never be settled.

An honest effort at temperance might settle the problem of alcohol intelligently. Without application of intelligence and education about the evils of excessive drink there can be no permanent abatement of the question that has agitated the American people for more than a hundred years. Dry and wet lobbyists have set up a perfect wrangle in Texas. We doubt if the present legislature has made any appreciable attempt to solve the problem.

Social security stands out as America's most pressing problem. A survey by the Texas Relief Commission shows that more than 40,000 persons 65 years or older are on the relief rolls of the State. More than half were white persons; 12,303 were negroes; 4,784 were Mexicans.

Of the total, 23,856 were men and 17,931 women. There were 9,499 single men and 9,879 single women reported. Married couples, both 65 years or older, on the relief rolls totaled 6,358, while there were 9,693 married couples recorded in which either the man or woman had reached the age of 65.

Now that President Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce has outlined an ambitious program for Cameron's Fall Fair, it should follow as both necessary and commendable that the citizens fall in line for a real co-operative effort to make it a success. The newly completed park is the logical setting for this big entertainment and educational project.

Any opposition to the use of these grounds would mean a denial of their benefits so well provided by public funds. In times past Cameron has had difficulties through unwise allocation of public grounds to private control. Access to these centers of pleasure and convenience should be open at all times to the people. Parks should not be restricted in their use where no abuse is had of the premises.

The average citizen is gradually learning more about economics, finance and government, as he reads and hears the discussions of the issues of the day.

Problems of banking, for example, have had much publicity in the past six years and there are many money "experts" on the streets of the towns and cities of the United States. Millions of Americans have a plan to end depression, unemployment and tax burdens by some device that, they assure us, is easy to put into operation and practically without blemish in operation.

Most of us know that the banks of the country have vast sums of money on deposit without being able to find investments that meet the requirements of sound banking principles. We also realize that once the hum of recovery gets under way there will be a flood of loans as banks turn loose the reservoir of accumulated and damped up funds, making in turn further loans through created wealth of bank credit.

What we fail to think about, however, is the danger that lies in such a situation. What will this mean? Simply and inevitably, rising prices and something like a boom. How far will it go and how many victims will be caught in the inexorable recess from the unknown future peak is problematical. There will be victims by the millions if we can use past experience to guide our reasoning now.

Just as the present effort of right thinking people is to restore normal (See OUR TOWN on page 4)

REPEAL TWO WAYS PLAN

AUTIN, May 1—Repeal of state prohibition was submitted to a double vote of the people today by the Texas legislature for the first popular ballot on state dry laws in 16 years.

Thundering majority in both houses roared approval of a compromise submission plan drafted by a conference committee for a double election on amending the constitution. Efforts to delay and reject the submission plan quickly were beaten down.

Ballot on August 24
Electors would ballot Aug. 24 on repeal with the legislature empowered to regulate the liquor traffic. Saloons would be banned and a state monopoly would be optional.

The question of mandatory state monopoly would be submitted at the general election in November, 1936. Under it sale of liquor for private profit or in broken packages for consumption on the premises or sale would be prohibited except for medicinal, mechanical or scientific purposes.

A favorable vote of the people on either repeal plan would wipe out constitutional prohibition, but prohibition could not be returned by a dry majority against the monopoly plan in the second election in 1936.

Local Option Provided
Local option would be provided by both plans. Counties would revert to the wet or dry status as of the effective date of prohibition in 1919. Likewise, the local option status of counties concerning the sale of 3.2 beer, legalized in 1933, would be changed.

Louisa's Letter

TWO LETTERS

Dear Louisa:

I have been going with a young man regularly for the past two years. Lately he has been breaking dates with me and giving very flimsy excuses as to why he had to do so. Do you suppose I have done something to offend him? When he is with me he doesn't seem angry about anything.

LOUISE B.

From your letter, Louise, I judge that your friend is either getting a little tired of you or else he takes you for granted that he thinks he can treat you any old way and make you like it. The trouble with so many of us is not that we can't see things clearly, but rather that we don't wish to see things that are not as we want them to be. For instance, I imagine that you really know whether this young man is trying to break off from you or not, but that you care so much for him that you won't admit it even to yourself.

Of course there is the chance that he is still in love with you but he realizes that you are so crazy about him that he can treat you as he pleases.

In either case you are not in an inevitable position and now is the time to remedy it. If he is trying to let you down, take the initiative and don't be a laughing stock for all your friends. Make dates with other people and let him realize that you are not dependent upon him. If you lose him it will be because he doesn't love you, and you surely don't want a man who stuck to you because of a mistaken idea of duty. On the other hand if he really loves you but has become too sure of you, your independence will give him a good jolt and make him realize that he has to exert himself a little bit to be desired.

Dear Louisa:

I am a school teacher and have a boy in my grade who is not bright. However, his father is rather a power on the school board and I understand the teacher who flunks his child always fails to be re-elected. I hate to lose my job, but what can I do?

M. B. F.

Just be perfectly honest, it always pays in the end. You might offer to help the child during study hour and in this way improve his grade, if you think the job is worth the extra work. Why not have a talk with the father and let him know that you want to do the very best for his son and give him some helpful suggestions as to the boy's study. Perhaps he is bright in other things instead of books. Many of our greatest inventors and scientists were considered dull scholars. Try to make the father realize that marks are not the most important thing about school.

Yours,
LOUISA.

"GADGETS" TOO REALISTIC

Tulsa, Oklahoma.—When brought into court charged with dancing in the "nude" Jackie Fain, blond dancer, told the judge she was wearing "gadgets," which she explained as "flesh colored brassiere and flesh colored tights." Officers volunteered the information that "if she had any gadgets on, they looked more genuine than genuine itself." She was fined $19.

THE ART OF COLOR AND LINE

"To be a judge of pictures one must know some of the obstacles the artist has to overcome to produce a good picture; such as combining perpendicular and horizontal lines for balance and then adding figures and cities in the distance, on a small space. Also color blending. Color is the artistic medium of feeling. The beauty of line and color is always with us through the beneficence of God," stated Miss Florene Podany and Mrs. Bartow McNulty, in articles given on picture appreciation, at the Bryant Station H. D. Club, Thursday, April 25, in the home of Mrs. B. B. McNulty.

There were 13 members, 2 new members and 3 visitors present.

The agent, Miss Strange will give a demonstration on "Canned Salads" May 16, with Mrs. Lely Moore, hostess. Visitors welcome.

PASTOR MISUNDERSTOOD

Washington.—The pastor of a fashionable church, being told of the earthquake in Formosa, misunderstood the location and in his sermon referred to the disaster asking prayers for the stricken "Californians." After services, many of his congregation called newspaper offices to discover that there had been no earthquake in the Western State.

GIVE US ENLIGHTENMENT IN CRIMINOLOGY

"Editor Herald, Cameron, Texas:

"It has been decreed according to 'law and Order' that on May 10 a 22 year old boy—Raymond Hamilton—must die in the electric chair. If this unfortunate youth is killed under the present circumstances justice is assuredly dead in Texas. It is a significant fact that the majority sentiment of the common people all over the state is firmly against this execution. A human being will have his life snuffed out by a cruel and revengeful state for a crime he never committed, namely, the killing of prison guard Crowson. Palmer is the guilty one. Hamilton should by all means not be killed simply on a notorious record. He has been duly tried and convicted and given several lifetimes in the penitentiary. This ought to be enough punishment for the most hard hearted.

"Why not be fair and merciful and commute his sentence to life imprisonment? Far worse people than Hamilton are safely confined behind the sordid penitentiary walls. Everyone who believes he is not guilty of the crime he is charged should be doing all in his power to influence the Governor to save his life. Petitions should be circulated and personal letters swamp the chief executive for clemency. Also, there are countless good and intelligent men and women in Texas who do not believe in and have the most profound horror to legalized killing for any crime. All these should be actively working for commutation of Hamilton's death sentence to life imprisonment. This is an extremely serious case. If the sentence of death for this boy is commuted to life it will be a great victory for the forces of Righteousness.

"It is very regrettable that there are some people—a certain class—who are clamoring for the blood of Raymond Hamilton. Lots of these misguided folks are the lineal descendants of the early day witch burners in this country. Even the majority of preachers of all creeds are against clemency. How they can still claim to be Christians and humanitarians is beyond all intelligent comprehension. They constitute to a large extent a sorry and despicable group. They are the one most powerful incarnation left of ignorance, cowardice, hypocrisy, and intolerance. These social parasites are a great menace to human progress. They are the leaders of the Forces of Evil even if they are called agents of God on earth. They shamefully ignore the Commandment "Thou Shall Not Kill."

"If Governor Allred, upon whom the grave and final responsibility for Hamilton's life rests, permits this boy to burn in the electric chair, one of the most indefensible, sad, cowardly, and uncivilized miscarriages of justice conceivable will forever mock the state. Surely this state will be disgraced in the eyes of all intelligent and fair minded people everywhere. It will set a bad and dangerous precedent. Many will wonder where we are headed with fear and trembling in their hearts. Beyond a doubt if Raymond is killed as now proposed such an asinine act will constitute a tragic step back into the Dark Ages."

values the endeavor of all the sane leaders should be directed towards the prevention of abnormal increases which will become dangerous and lead to disaster. It is just as much the business of the government, bankers, financiers and business men to prevent undue rises as to attempt to save people from undue losses. We can't have one without the other and any scheme of reform that attempts to throttle the one must also enchain the other.

Hardly a nation wants war, right now, but with so many "unloaded" military machines lying around, an accident might start them shooting at any time.

Why worry about the government running the United States? For years the bankers, financiers and big industrialists ran it, and for their own benefit.

Subscribing to the Herald means that you get the news of Milam county regularly and many other readable columns besides.

Our own advice to farmers is to plant just the number of acres that will bring in the most money. If this means bigger crops, all right; if it means shorter crops, all right.

As a matter of fact neither the farmers, the laborers, the big business men nor the politicians are pleased with the state of national affairs—they all want more money for themselves.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained. Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen limbs, feel nervous, miserable—all upset. Don't delay! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

CAMERON WINS PLACE IN HOMEMAKING RALLY

Dorothea Kubecka brought special honors to the Homemaking Department of the Yoe High School by winning third place on the work she had done on planning and constructing a costume appropriate for special occasions for high school girls.

The significance of this honor becomes more apparent when one knows that one thousand girls registered at the rally in Corpus Christi on the 25, 26 and 27 of this month. Cameron, having a large enrollment, was grouped as a Class A high school. This made it necessary for Cameron to compete with Houston, Dallas, Lubbock, San Antonio and other large City schools.

One group of representatives traveled over 1000 miles to Corpus. Their school is located in the extreme northwest corner of Texas.

In spite of the fact that this is the first year Cameron has sent representatives to this rally, each entry made resulted in complimentary recognitions. However, next year the girls hope to do even better.

Those making the trip were Helen Ryan, Dorothea Kubecka, Adele Slama, Mildred Parma and Josephine Newton. They were accompanied by Miss Kathryn E. Robbins and Miss Lois Young, teachers of Home Economics in Yoe High School.

Clint Lewis of Burleson County, brought his son, Clint, Jr., back to the Cameron Hospital for observation after being taken to his home for a few weeks. WHAT I WOULD DO IF MY CLOTHING CAUGHT AFIRE

My clothes have never caught afire and I shall try to prevent their ever doing so. But if they should, I have well in my mind what I would do.

First and above all I would keep my wits and not let myself be frightened. I know that most of the people who burn to death do so needlessly. They could save themselves if they could only control their fear. To run is practically always fatal. The first thing to do is to think quickly. It may be very sensible to scream for help, but don't let your mind stop working while you scream.

To smother out the flame is second. A blanket, quilt, overcoat, or rug will serve very well. If none of these are at hand, a towel, a garment or anything to protect the hands may be used to rub out the flames. If the fire is scattered in several places on the clothing, one had best lie down and roll. Of course you can gather a rug on the way, so much the better. Anything that smothers a flame and does not ignite itself is valuable in case of a fire. Flour, sugar, salt, ashes or sand are excellent. The main thing is to keep away from the flame.

People frequently catch fire while wearing fuzzy outing nightclothes. The frightening little flame which runs so quickly over the surface can be easily rubbed out by the bare hands without even raising a blister. If the worst comes to the worst, it is better to burn the hands badly than to burn all over.

If my clothes ever catch on fire I hope and believe I will be calm enough not to move out of my tracks until I know exactly what I am going to do.

—Caroline Chambers.

HOLIDAY FIRES

Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Years, Fourth of July; all these glamorous occasions often lead up to disaster and destruction. Prime among these aces of destruction is fire, the menace of every holiday occasion. The incomer who ends every holiday spree with loss and destruction is fire.

On Christmas, the gayest and happiest of all the holidays, a grand and glorious feast is prepared. A tree is decorated with candles, tinsel, cotton and many packages wrapped in tissue paper. Everyone happy, carefree, and full of life. The halls and large rooms are decorated and lighter as never before; colored streamers and wreaths hang from windows and doors to bid a welcome to all. All of these serve only to invite a fire. Just the mere flicker of a match, a tiny swish of a skirt or a small tree toppling over could cause commotion and disaster in such a short time. Thousands of such fires occur every year as a result of possibly the mere flicker of a lamp.

Thanksgiving holidays! All of us know of their merriment. There are always great piles of food, huge turkeys, and candy in abundance. Ovens and stoves are kept on all night and day baking and cooking these delicacies. Housewives, tired from the long stand over the cooking, become careless after their long labor. A tiny drop of grease has been known to start a fire that lasts all night. A match thrown carelessly aside will sometimes bring horror and immediate panic.

The Fourth of July, our national independence day, has been made by the boys and girls of our nation a holiday that usually ends in loss of life and destruction of property. Firecrackers, skyrockets, sparklers, pinwheels, miniature cannons and many others make the day a gay occasion but often a sad one. A little boy throws a burning firecracker into the air, he waits for it to go off but it does not. Then he cautiously creeps over to the spot where he thinks it has landed. But it is not there. Perhaps it went further over. He searches for about twenty minutes and then, deciding it is not there he goes home. That night about midnight a fire had begun to burn merrily on a house near the field where the firecracker had been thrown. A house will be ruined, furniture and prized possessions burned up; women and children, horror-stricken, know not what to do.

It is time we began to realize the tragic results of such careless use of firecrackers and other forms of merry-making.

—Dorothy Perkins.

MAKES SAFE "CRASH" LANDING

Washington.—With fire apparatus and ambulances waiting, J. H. Carmichael, pilot of a transport plane, safely landed his tri-motored ship and six passengers. Eighty-five miles from Washington, one of his engines exploded and plunged to the ground. The pilot decided to return to the capital rather than risk a landing in the hilly country.

By radio they warned the field that a crash landing would be made, and while flying back, co-pilot R. H. Taylor tested and tightened the safety belts of the passengers. A few minutes later, in a new plane and with three of his former passengers, he started on a successful flight to Detroit.

SON SAYS HE SLEW

Howard Pierson, 21 year old son of Justice and Mrs. William Pierson, confessed that he shot his mother and father on last Wednesday night near Austin.

Revenge he said was the reason. Young Pierson was taken to Temple hospitals in 1933 for mental observation, it became known yesterday. At first he said his father and mother had been slain by bandits who held them up to rob. Later he said this was untrue and that he had slain his parents.

Insanity was believed to form the basis of defense plea in court. Justice Pierson had visited in Cameron many times.

Miraculous Operation Gives Girl Hip-Socket

London.—Hailed as a miracle of modern surgery, an operation has been performed upon a seven-year-old girl, born without a hip socket, as the result of which she is now able to walk almost normally.

The child—Gwen Jenkins of West Croydon—was taken to the Victoria Hospital for Children nearly six years ago, when she was sixteen months old. For two years the child had her hips encased in a plaster cast. Then surgeons took a piece of bone from her sound hip and leg, fashioned it into a socket, and placed it in the crippled hip. For two more years the child was encased in a plaster cast, and last May the doctors decided to free the limb.

The operation was successful up to that point—the socket worked naturally, but it was not strong, so a daily course of massage and exercise was begun.

A short time ago the child was removed from bed and, leaning on the arms of her nurses, taught to walk a few unsteady steps at a time. Doctors in charge of her case say she will soon walk normally.

Skunk Waits in Vain for Cat Run Over by Motor

Lake Hopatcong, N. J.—This is a story of a polite skunk and his deathless love for a Persian cat. Patootie was the cat. She belonged to Dr. H. O. Bell, chief physician of the Essex County hospital, and she never went out much until she met the skunk. After that they took long walks together in the woods every night.

Several weeks ago Patootie was killed by an automobile. The skunk waited for her in vain that night.

Since that time he has been around Dr. Bell's home almost every night and recently he brought his mate. They keep the nightly vigil together now and never do any of the things that have given skunks bad reputations. But Patootie will never be back.

Is This Spring Fever—Or What?

SPRING is not only here—it's more than three weeks old.

And while car owners are thinking of vacation tours and week-end trips, automotive engineers warn that it's time to think about that oft-forgotten part of your car—the crankcase.

For, the engineers declare, oil should be changed with the seasons—just as you change your clothes.

While a heavy suit on a hot day might cause you discomfort—a diluted, thin oil in your car on a Spring or Summer day can cause not only inconvenience but actual motor wear and possibly repairs.

In cold weather when engines run at lower temperatures, a light oil is necessary. Heavy oil under these conditions is liable to become "stiff" when the car is idle, and so cause trouble in starting due to the extra load imposed on the battery and starting motor. Operating temperatures run proportionately higher as atmospheric temperatures rise and as higher speeds are sustained for long periods of time. It is therefore necessary in Summer to use oils which offer the greatest degree of bearing protection and which will not be rapidly consumed.

Although there have been great advances in oil refining during the past few years, one should be careful to determine the condition of the oil in a car's crankcase at frequent intervals, and change it when necessary. No oil, no matter how well refined, can stand up against dirt that is bound to filter in through vents, nor combat dilution by gasoline that may be present in an automobile engine. Either one of these facts impairs the lubricating value of an oil. Dirt is the engine's worst enemy, for it can "grind down" moving parts almost as efficiently as emery. True, modern oils may retard dilution, but over a period of time, especially at low temperatures, dilution will occur.

High speed driving will also cause the oil to be used up more quickly than driving at slow speeds. An engine having worn cylinders, rings and pistons will of course consume a much greater quantity of oil—especially at high speeds—than an engine which is in good mechanical condition. The oil level should be kept normal at all times, else the engine tends to consume the oil still more rapidly.

There are three simple precautions to follow to guard against expensive repair work such as burned bearings or scored cylinders. These precautions are:

1. Don't try to drive too far without changing oil.
2. Be sure of the condition of the oil; it may be in a dirty or diluted condition.
3. Check your oil frequently to see that it is at the proper level.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Women members of the Methodist church were entertained Monday afternoon by Circle 1 of the W. M. U. Mrs. C. E. Gaston served as hostess for the occasion. Beautiful vocal numbers were given by Mrs. W. R. Hoover and Mrs. A. J. Triggs with Mrs. W. B. Levy at the piano. Mrs.

Susanne Wills gave a very clever reading. Impersonation of familiar characters by Mrs. J. Coy Williams, Mrs. W. A. Bonds, Mrs. La Bertie Robinson, Mrs. Anna Lou West, Mrs. C. E. Gaston and Mrs. Winnie Wiltiff offered much amusement. A reading by Mrs. Eber Flinn was also enjoyed. Miss Katherine Mode gave a beautiful piano number. Refreshments were served at the close of the social.

The W. M. S. will meet in the church Monday afternoon at 3:30 for the monthly business meeting.

Miss Hazel Avent Becomes Bride of Dr. E. H. O'Neal in Rosebud April 20th

On Saturday evening April 20th in Rosebud Miss Hazel Avent became the bride of Dr. E. H. O'Neal with Rev. T. H. Vaughan, pastor of the First Baptist church officiating at the ring ceremony.

Following the wedding the couple left for Mexico City where they will spend their honeymoon.

The wedding is the culmination of a courtship that lasted some four years, starting shortly after Dr. O'Neal moved to Rosebud from Cameron.

Dr. O'Neal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. O'Neal of Cameron. He located in Rosebud about five years ago, after graduating from Houston Dental College. He is a graduate of Yoe High School. He has made many friends in Rosebud during his five years of successful practice. His association with the Boy Scouts work is one of his civic activities.

The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. Ament, attended high school in Rosebud and later finished high school in Reagan high school in Houston, afterwards attending Baylor College. For the last few years she has been a member of the Briary school faculty where she made many friends with both students and patrons of the school.

COMETS SPLIT TWIN BILL HERE SUNDAY

The XXX Pearl Comets and the Rogers Eagles battled through four hours of baseball at the Lawless Green field Sunday and quit with the honors even. The comets won the first game of a double header 7 to 1. Schottle bested Bob Guess in the first game with both pitchers showing good form. Bill Worcester, Al Ondrej and Boot Smith were the leading hitters for the Comets, each getting two of the eight hits gained from the offering of Guess. Worcester inaugurated the home run season in the sixth when he drove the ball high over the left field wall for the first home run at Lawless Green field this year.

In the second game Copeland held the Comets to 3 hits and 1 run which came in the third when Williams was safe on an error and scored on Jackson's long double. Jack Hobson the starting pitcher for the Comets deserved a better fate. He allowed only four hits and no earned runs. The Comets defense blew up in the third and Rogers scored six runs on only two hits and 2 walks. McLerran, Jackson and Worcester made the only hits off Copeland's curve balls.

Doug Williams was moved to 3rd base to make room for Bob McLerran at second and seemed to relish the change, handling ten chances in the double header without a bobble. Boots Smith as usual, starred on defense in center field for the Comets.

Next Sunday the Comets play Rosebud in Rosebud and will strive hard to avenge a defeat suffered at the hands of the roses earlier in the season.

KNIGHTS DEFEAT YARRELLTON TEAM

Pete Gibbs for the Yeggs had great speed but his control was not very good, and this got him in many tight places.

The Knights scored first when Ross walked, stole second, Shorty Matula then walked, then Hollas got a short single to left, Ross scoring and Shorty Matula being thrown out a plate. The K. of C's scored again in the third, and held their lead until about the fourth when the Yeggs scored once, scored again in the sixth and took the lead in the seventh three to two.

The Yeggs held their lead until the first of the ninth when the K. of C's scored eight runs. Pete Gibbs whiffed out eight, while Ladis Matula fanned 12. The Yeggs got 5 hits while the Knights got seven or eight.

AD HALL H. D. CLUB

The Ad Hall Home Demonstration Club met Friday with Mrs. J. O. Hughes. Seven members and two visitors were present. Developing an Appreciation for Pictures was read by Mrs. J. O. Hughes. Color and lines and the arts of light was read by Mrs. Frank Marak. The next meeting will be at the school house, the program honoring Mothers, Friday, May 10.

FRIDAY BRIDGE

Pretty Spring roses lent charm to the party rooms when Mrs. George Childress, Jr., entertained the Friday Contract Bridge Club.

After a series of games Mrs. Chas. Frank Green made highest score and received a pretty gift shop article.

The hostess served her guests with a dainty salad plate at the close of the games.

Out of town guest was Mrs. J. E. Eaker of Brownwood.

When he fought his only duel he thought the bullets were blanks—but he saved his skin with a barrage of laughter that kept a love match off the rocks—and a boy from a ruined life!

Rid Yourself of Kidney Poisons

Do you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, swollen feet and ankles? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unstrung and don't know what is wrong?
Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly, for functional kidney disorder permits excess waste to stay in the blood, and to poison and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They are recommended the world over. You can get the genuine, time-tested Doan's at any drug store.

It's the same thing every month. Bills with box car numbers on them, and Dad ranting and raving all over the house. He can't understand why things cost so much, when he's always telling Mother to read the ads in the Herald, too. Some day Mother will get wise and read them. Then She'll know just what she's going to buy, and how much it will cost long before she goes shopping. It will save money and we'll be able to live as well as other people. CUNNINGHAM BEATEN.

FOUR BOXING BATTLES.

COLLEGE PAYS ATHLETES.

The Boston Red Sox got away to a good start and Wesley Ferrell, former Cleveland pitching ace, is out to lead the American League pitchers this year as a matter of personal pride. Ferrell was dissatisfied with the Indians and had an eye on New York but the Yankees turned him down. With Boston he expects to have a record year and if he comes through and Lefty Grove shows any of his old class, it would not be too much to expect that Yawkey's Park will stage some of the World Series games.

Over in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds have shown a lot of hustle and spirit to surprise the opposition. Even Brooklyn and Philadelphia surged forward during the first week of play but the long run will probably shake them all down. St. Louis fans are delighted over the form of the Dean boys who seem set to turn in victories as scheduled.

Denton (Cy) Young, now 68, who pitched Boston to championships in 1903 and 1904, is about to go into training with other old-timers at Augusta, Georgia, according to reports from Cochockton, Ohio, where Cy says he has signed a contract to work an inning a day which will pay him more money than he received for winning 35 games a year in the old days. While not knowing who else will be in the old timers' outfit, the report is that Freddy Parrant, Old Boston Red Sox shortstop, Jimmy Collins, third baseman with Boston in the days of Young Jimmy Archer, who caught for the Cubs, and Zack Wheat, Brooklyn's outfielder, will be in the group.

Walter Pate, of New York, is the non playing captain of the tennis team which will play China next month in the Davis cup zone matches. Pate will take a freshman squad to Mexico City to meet the Oriental players on May 10, 11 and 12. The game will be played on clay courts and while the American team of Grant, Budge and Mako are newcomers to cup competition, they are this country's leading hard-surface players. Pate is not expected to be permanent captain of the American Davis Cup squad and someone else will probably read the team that plays in England, provided it is successful on this side of the Atlantic.

Big Bill Tilden continues to head a troupe of tennis professionals going over the country playing exhibition matches. The "Old Master" keeps going and while not as good as he used to be, is the driving spirit of pro tennis. Generally regarded as the last of the "Big Four" in sports, Tilden continues to play even though Dempsey has hung up his gloves, Bobby Jones new golfers in defeat and Babe Ruth displays the last flashes of his fading power.

Six leading golf professionals of Japan reached the United States last week for matches against picked American pros, and to compete in the Open at Pittsburgh in June. They will play in sectional P. G. A. matches during May at Kansas City, Saint Louis and prior to the championship, will participate in matches in a number of cities in the Middle West.

Glenn Cunningham, after ten straight victories, was beaten by Glen Dawson in the Kansas Relays Carnival. The time for mile was 4:17.4, pretty slow for Cunningham who holds the world mark of 4:06.7. The famous miler will run at Princeton on June 15th, where Bill Bonthron, Jack Lovelock, of New Zealand, the former world record holder, and Gene Venzke will again furnish him the opposition.

H. W. Hargiss, track coach at the University of Kansas, says that Cunningham will be in good shape and predicts that his protegee will lower the world record.

The Naval Academy Rifle team recently won the National Intercollegiate shoulder to shoulder championship, with a record score of 1388 out of 1,500 possible points. The best individual performance was that of C. Cone, University of Iowa representative, who turned in a score of 289.

With four outstanding bouts listed for the next two months, the New York public will have plenty of boxing, it seems. Just how the matches will rate in box office receipts is the present speculation. The Braddock-Baer championship fight seems to be building up, with Braddock getting a big Irish following. Just what the Ambers-Canzoneri and McLarnin-Ross get together will net is not certain at this writing.

However, no doubt exists as to the fact that a "natural" will be staged between Joe Lewis and Primo Carnera. The Detroit Negro's sensational showing is being watched by all fans to determine whether he is ripe for a championship fight with Baer. Lewis has scored a number of victories but has never met anyone as big, or as good, or as rough as the Italian giant.

Something new in athletics comes from Waynesburg College, in Pennsylvania, where the athletic director frankly announces that any boy who can make the football team will be given room, board, tuition and books free of charge. Wolfe argues that the boy who works hard all season on an athletic field should not have to give his services entirely free of charge. While there is much argument on the question of college athletics, with many charges and counter charges each year, we are inclined to think that there is really no valid reason why young men should not receive some benefit from their athletic prowess. Certainly, room, board, tuition and books do not seem too much to give a successful college athlete.

Roderich Menzel, Czechoslovakian tennis player, quit a tennis match in Rome because the crowd chaffed him. Walking off the court, he shouted, "Shut up, you fools." . . . Jimmy Braddock is roughing it outdoors in preliminary training for his bout with Max Baer in June. . . . Max Baer will be heard on the radio every week for the next six months. . . . Dixie Walker, Yankee outfielder, dislocated his right shoulder in an exhibition game with West Point cadets. . . . Dick Shikat, champion muscle bender until Jim Londos took his crown four years ago, is trying to come back and hopes to get his title again. . . . Racing fans have their eyes turned toward Kentucky this week where the famous Kentucky Derby will be run on Saturday, with Chance Sun the favorite to win. . . . The Cincinnati Reds pulled the first triple play of the season when Sunny Jim Bottomly caught a line drive after two had walked stepped on first and threw to second for the third out.

In the first three games of the season, the Cleveland Indians played 14, 14 and 13 innings. . . . Connie Mack, after a week of play, says that Jimmy Fox is "as good a catcher as Mickey Cochrane ever was." This about puts Jimmy on top. . . . Joe Cronin, whose wrist was broken last season, is playing in closer than he used to which indicates that the Boston manager is having trouble with his throwing. . . . Darrell (Cy) Blanton, Pittsburgh right-hander from Maurika, Oklahoma, was the strike out king of the International League last year. In his first game this year he let the Cardinals down with one hit for a shut out victory. . . . Dixie Howell has gone home to Hartford, Alabama, to recuperate from injuries received when struck by a batted ball. He will later join the Birmingham Club of the Southern Association. He was released under option by the Detroit Tigers. . . . Col. Eddie Rickenkaker predicts that the 500-mile automobile race, to be staged May 30, will bring a new all-time record to replace that of 104.86 miles per hour set by Wild Bill Cummings last May.

Stone Throwing Adults

There are, in our midst, men and women who lament the customs and manners of our young people, and with some degree of apprehension wonder what the race is coming to.

We are not here to argue the cause of youth or to persuade sincere men and women that what they believe is untrue. Rather let us look to the future and imagine how the next crop of children will turn out. Let us ask ourselves seriously, the question, "What do the adults of Cameron do in behalf of growing children?" The answer, with rarely an exception, is simple, and simply "nothing."

Adult citizens, preoccupied with business affairs do not, as a rule, give any of their time and money to children other than their own. Few of us look upon all youth as the wards of society. We dismiss them from mind and provide nothing for their proper, wholesome development excepting in the matter of schools and churches.

In our plans to make Cameron bigger and better we have no program for children. They are left to their own devices for amusement, and lacking proper recreation, they sometimes do what adults disapprove. However, before justly condemning the young people, we should give them the attention they deserve.

What Were Her Chances?

That truth is stranger than fiction comes to mind when we read the story of John Mobley, 45, of Philadelphia, who was walking home the other night.

Happening to look up he saw a woman leap from a third story window. Bracing himself, he broke her fall and received a strained back. The woman was unhurt, except for some burns from an exploding stove which caused her to make the jump.

Some mathematician might figure out the chance that any individual jumping at random from a third-story window, would have of being caught by a man passing by and escaping serious injury.

Automobiles, Instruments of Death!

The increased number of automobiles brings about an increasing number of fatalities every year. The Herald has several times called attention to the enormous toll taken by the craze for speed. The death and accident lists of the nation, if compiled in a daily communique, would read like the casualties of a battle.

The price that is paid escapes general attention, but the sorrow comes to those whose loved ones are injured. The citizens of Cameron, like those elsewhere, have accepted this enormous loss with little regard to the fact that it could be greatly reduced by proper preventative methods. The same casualties, if caused by an unknown, dread disease, would call forth weeping and wailing all over the nation.

Put Ships Under Glass

We observe that some pacifists object to the maneuvers now being held in the Pacific ocean by 153 vessels of the American navy, aided by 466 airplanes.

The pacifists are right; what we should do is to put the navy in dry dock or keep it under glass until war breaks out and then let the enemy teach us to fight.

Demand for Change Natural

The people of the United States are vitally concerned over the control of the monetary policy of the nation and the credit upon which most business is erected.

The bill now before Congress is assailed and defended by various public men and financiers and the writer is not capable of passing expert judgment upon the argument that is heard in the land. Nevertheless, somebody must, in the nature of things, possess control and whether the government could do this better than the bankers remains to be seen if and when the change takes place.

We can testify to the fact that the people of the nation have blamed bankers for many ills. Probably the blame was too unanimously laid at the door of the financiers but the fact is that so called high finance had much to do with the collapse of the economic structure. Naturally, there is a demand for a change even if people do not altogether understand what it is about.

Here's a Hot Scheme

From Denver, Colorado, comes the latest scheme to take small bits of change from those susceptible to get rich schemes.

A man gets a letter, asking him to send a dime to an address at the top of a list, to scratch off the name he remits to and then add his name to the bottom of the list sending the newly made up appeal to five friends.

Postal authorities say that so many of the letters appeared that postal receipts soared $20,000 in twelve days and moved upward toward the Christmas peak rush.

The idea was that when an individual's name got to the top of the list 15,625 persons would mail in dimes, giving a return of $1,650 in return for an investment of one dime plus five stamps. This looks like what the big boys, in the old days, would call a "fair" return!

Of course there are saps that take up such chain letters and some probably get some money back, but where the cash will come from to pay the last group that jumps into the speculation is what breaks down the idea.

On the Purpose of Life

Almost every reader of The Herald believes in immortality, and the average man agrees that there is a heaven to reward his goodness and a hell to take care of his wicked friends.

Our citizenry as a whole, however, is nearly as unanimous on the purpose of life. Some view the material results as unimportant compared to substantial character development. Others consider that harmony with their fellowman is one of the essentials and that fidelity to abstract principles, when they conflict with present peace of mind, is a poor substitute for a rendezvous with the gang.

As far as this writer has been able to observe the actions of men they are guided by one of the broad policies of conduct. The vogue of the "mixer" with men, the "practical" man, is in direct contrast to the man who seeks to understand his duty, accepts his responsibility, and executes his task. Which type do you belong to? Why?

The Merchant's Side

This buying at home idea has two sides. Merchants who neglect to advertise, who fail to shout their wares, cannot complain when buyers, wanting something, order it from a catalog where they see it instead of tramping over town to find out if Mr. So and So has it.

We know of business men in Cameron who think it is a crime to send money away from town for merchandise, or to patronize the products of out of town concerns, when local plants and merchants have similar things to sell. These same men, however, neglect to do what is first done by the mail order people—advertise.

The Herald has stalked keeping money at home for many moons. Most merchants and business men have agreed with us. Some of them when approached for advertising, grin and suggest that the public knows all about them. Others, keenly appreciating the advantage of keeping their name in print, give us advertisements large or small, as the circumstances happen to be.

No cross word puzzle will have to perplex his brain to discover who is going to get the most of the business of the people of Cameron.

Convicted By Eye-Witnesses.

Citizens who tremble over a conviction based on circumstantial evidence seldom realize that innocent men sometimes go to jail as a result of unintentional mistakes by eye-witnesses.

For example, take the case recently brought to light at Crown Point, Ind., where Edward Singleton, 43, has just been released after serving four years in prison for a crime he did not commit. He was convicted because the victims of a robbery identified him as the robber who wore a mask.

Several weeks ago, however, a young man was apprehended and confessed the crime. He was later tried and given a suspended sentence because Singleton declared "I bear no grudge" and "am pleading for leniency."

What amends, may we ask, will society make to Edward Singleton for the years behind the bars, the lost opportunities and the disagreeable consequences of mistaken justice?

Eat Grass, Roots, Bark and Dirt

Conditions in eight drought stricken districts of China are described by relief workers, who tell a pitiable story of suffering and death.

In one grove of a hundred trees the people had stripped them of bark to be used for food, in other fields men were digging grass to satisfy hunger, elsewhere families mixed bran with water and earth but many died because the earth caused fatal stoppage of a digestive tract. Workmen on an irrigation project were being fed cooked grasses, mixed with a little rice.

The suffering in our own drought area is bad enough to draw the sympathetic attention of all Americans and the efforts of the government to aid the distressed people. Where would our own citizens find succor if it did not come from a strong government, backed by the resources of the land it controls? How much better would the Chinese people live if they, too, boasted a real government, able to direct the national affairs through the confidence of the people themselves?

Let's not forget in this day of emergencies, that we owe much to the government of this country, which has withstood many tests throughout the years and remains today, regardless of party power, able to serve its people as their exigencies demand. Let this be true always!

Is your Life Insurance Adequate?

No doubt you know how much income is required each month for your family's running expenses, so if you would like to figure out for yourself how nearly the life insurance you own would meet your family's needs should they have to depend on it for their support.

Here is a Simple Way to Do It

Put down the amount of Life Insurance you own and strike out the last three figures. Multiply the remainder by four. The results will show approximately the monthly income your family would derive. Stop and think if you should step out of the picture of life, would your insurance be adequate to take care of the loved ones behind.

Washington News For Milam County Farmers

From Cameron Herald's Washington Bureau

More than 2,000 of the 2,916 CCC camps that will be operated under the new program will be under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture. Under Secretary Rexford G. Tugwell is to coordinate land improvement, and heads an organization for rural re-settlement which is to move families from places where they cannot make a living to better settlements.

Robert Fechner, CCC director, says that the 600,000 men to be mobilized will be divided as follows: 290,000 on forests, 120,000 on national parks, 74,000 on flood and drainage control and 116,000 on fighting dust-breeding soil erosion. Of this last number 25,000 will be located in the dust storm area.

The camps under the Agriculture Department will include approximately 768 in national forests, 264 in private forests, 38 on TVA projects and the others as indicated. The Interior Department will have 483 camps in State parks and 116 in national parks.

The increased enrollment is expected to be obtained by July 1st and the work will cost about $40,000,000 a month. Land for 1216 camps has been acquired and the War Department is ready to begin construction.

We confess that we are unable to understand those who argue that farmers should raise unlimited crops regardless of price and take whatever money the purchasers pay them for their products.

We make no defense of any method of improving the condition of agriculture in this country because frankly we are not well enough informed to pass judgment upon the various proposals. At the same time we think the true test of a program to rehabilitate agriculture in this country is simple: Does it put cash in the pockets of the farmers?

If any program does this, then it is helping agriculture; if it doesn't, regardless of the principles involved, it does no good.

Every grower of wheat and cotton knows from past experience that very often a short crop brings in more actual cash to the growers than a large yield. Why raise millions of bushels of wheat and millions of bales of cotton for less money? Or, answering another criticism, should the farmers grow big crops in order that those who handle their products can have normal business regardless of whether the wheat and cotton growers make money or not?

Secretary Wallace says there will be enough bread to go around during the coming year even though the country has had its shortest wheat crop for the past 40 years in 1933 and 1934.

The normal domestic requirement is 625,000,000 bushels. There is on hand a carry over of 150,000,000 bushels. Estimates of the winter wheat harvest on April 1st were 435,000,000 bushels, or 40,000,000 bushels less than in December. Restrictions on Spring wheat were lifted on March 1st to increase acreage from 17,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels is looked for on the basis of 1934.

Farm implement manufacturers expect better business in the future because of the higher farm prices and cash benefits which have, in part, restored farm purchasing power.

Sales in 1934, according to reports, ran about 85 per cent above the level of 1932. For the first three years of this decade low prices made it almost impossible for the average farmer to spend much money for equipment, and although farm purchasing power is dragging behind the price upturn, heads of the industry are more cheerful than for some years.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pain disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

International Sunday School Lesson
for May 12, 1935

GOLDEN TEXT: "So we, who are many, and one body in Christ, and severally members one of another." Romans 12:5.

(Lesson Text: Acts 2:41-45; Ephesians 4:1-7, 11-16.)

What is the Christian Church? What principles does it represent? Who compose its membership? What should it accomplish? Who are worthy members of it? These are some of the questions considered in our weekly topic.

The Greek word "ekklesia," referred to an assembly of citizens in a free city for transacting public business, formed by words originally designating a select group called out of the whole population. This word appears some seventy times in the Septuagint translation of the Old Testament, describing the congregation or assembly of Israel. The word is used over a hundred times in the New Testament, but in no gospel except Matthew's, and here only twice.

The word was first used by Jesus immediately following Peter's inspired confession of faith in his divinity at Caesarea Philippi, when he said he would build his church on such faith, and promised that the forces of evil should never prevail against it. The keys were delivered to Peter, who opened membership to the Jews by his Pentecostal sermon, and the Gentiles at the home of the Roman centurion Cornelius.

The early Jewish converts to Christianity did not immediately create an ecclesiastical organization. Love and loyalty to Jesus were the common ties and they met in the beginning in private homes for fellowship and inspiration in the service of their faith. The initial forms of the early church evolved from experience and in answer to the needs of the members of the new group, different from the rest of the population, subject to persecution, and drawn close by common danger and spiritual expectation.

The picture of the first Christian group, given in the second chapter of Acts, when there were about three thousand members, is illuminating. They gathered to increase their knowledge of Jesus and his doctrines to develop their faith and powers through prayer, and to serve the needs of their fellows, inspired by love towards each other. Many of the wealthy sold their possessions to meet the needs of those less fortunate, which practice was not the "communism" we hear of today, but was a more generous attitude towards holding wealth selfishly in the face of human distress and need than practiced severally by Christians today. This unselfish and pure example in practical Christianity undoubtedly had much to do with the rapid growth of the church, and we might add, a similar procedure today would restore confidence in many hearts today which are distrustful of the professions of many church groups.

In his letter to the Ephesians, Paul emphasizes the unity of the church in faith and worship. The great apostle realized fully the difficulties in creating and maintaining the necessary singleness of ideal and attitude where so many different personalities were involved. The church includes in its membership Jews and Gentiles, wise and ignorant, rich and poor, men and women of all races and classes," as Charles R. Erdman, says and: "When such different dispositions, tastes and personalities are involved, it is evident that the preservation of harmony is no slight achievement." It can only be enjoyed when the membership remains constantly conscious of their common brotherhood in the same god and faith, practicing in daily life the love, patience and forbearing on the Ephesian membership by Paul.

The church, like other social institutions, have no justification if it does not serve the individuals. By "church" we mean the body of Christian believers as a whole, and not any sect or group within the wider range. Among the goals of the church the late Dr. Lyman Abbott listed: (1) to help men and women meet temptation successfully; (2) to carry the spirit of helpful service into society; (3) to encourage its members to face criticism and sneers for doing right; (4) to oppose powerful established vested interests when harmfully engaged; (5) to comfort and console those stricken in sorrow; (6) to forgive and inspire to better life those who have wavered and are in despair; and (7) to build a faith which looks beyond the grave to the eternity of life beyond, thus encouraging a serious and purposeful existence while on this earth.

CITY HOPEFUL OF P. O. IMPROVEMENT

Cameron is still hopeful of getting an addition to the post office building so that government activities may be provided for.

Copies of resolutions adopted by the Milam County Commissioners' Court and the Cameron City Council were sent to Congressman O. H. Cross, recently, and he in turn forwarded them to Christian J. Peoples, director of procurement of the treasury Department, Washington.

County Judge Jeff T. Kemp is in receipt of letters from Cross and Peoples who say Cameron has been placed on the list of projects from which selections will be made by the Treasury Post Office committee in formulating a new public building program in the event additional funds are provided therefor by Congress.

Cross said that he would urge upon the Treasury Department to set aside an appropriation for this addition to the post office building in Cameron, provided of course, additional funds are made available by Congress for this purpose.

CAMERON PARK IS CENTENNIAL HOPE

When Texas Centennial celebration is held in Texas in 1936, Cameron should have one of the most beautiful parks in the state to contribute to the beauty spots in Texas.

Thousands and thousands of tons of native petrified wood, sand rock and oak logs are being used to build club and organization houses, barbecue pits, bridges, tables and seats, and to rip-rap the creeks that flow into the five acre lake in the center of the park.

The park, known as the Wilson-Ledbetter park, given a number of years ago to the city by the late Mrs. Lizzie B. Wilson to be used as a park but had never been beautified, and was used mostly for pasturing cattle. Under the Civil Works' Administration here in December, 1933, this 30-acre tract of land was taken as a project to put unemployed men to work.

At the present time, a Boy Scout cabin, a large pavilion with sewage accommodations, dressing rooms and bath, and the American Legion house and several barbecue pits, tables and seats have been completed. Work is progressing on the Girl Scout cabin. The lake has been stocked with 19,169 fish.

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the 'teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. Crit Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
